

Global Missionary Service

on

James and Stacy Marse

Jonathan and Solanna

Bolivia

The Marse family began their missionary journey with about 14 months of AIM service in Bolivia from 2006-2008. During this time, they attended Spanish language school and helped the missionaries in various ways. In October 2011, they received full missionary appointment to Bolivia. They will live in the city of Santa Cruz, the largest city in Bolivia, with the intention of starting a church. From this church, they will start daughter churches throughout the city and surrounding area. The main goal is to one day have services that minister to the people of Bolivia in the languages of English, Spanish, Portuguese, Quechua and Guarneri.