Robert & Karen

Poole

Lesotho

Robert and Karen are veteran missionaries who began their journey as AIMers in 1991 serving two terms in Nigeria. While there, Robert taught in the Bible school, encouraged the local churches and evangelized in the northern portion which was hostile to the gospel. Karen also taught and worked in the printing department.

They were then appointed as intermediate missionaries to the Africa Impact Team which was a mobile, fully self-contained evangelism/church plant ministry and they worked in Cameroon.

After resigning Global Missions, they returned to Fayetteville North Carolina to assist their former pastor. From there they pastored a church in West Virginia for nine years. From West Virginia they went to Arizona where Robert assisted Reverend Kenneth Kelley.

The Pooles have recently returned from the Kingdom of Lesotho where they spent thirteen months as Associate Missionaries encouraging the churches and teaching the GATS Program. In June of 2020 they were appointed as career missionaries. Their desire is to return to Lesotho and build a Bible school to equip young men and women with the tools they need to reach their country with the Gospel of Jesus Christ.
