Missionaries to Japan and the Military Ministries in Asia

The Marshes were originally born-again in Germany through the military work there. After serving the military church for seven years and moving to Okinawa, they were appointed under the Associates In Missions program in 2007. Their work included teaching, preaching, children's Sunday school, and outreach to the military bases. While serving on the AIM program, they received their appointment as pastor of the church in Okinawa in 2009 while still active duty military.

After retirement in 2011 from the military, they were upgraded from Assistant Coordinator to Coordinator for Asia Military District and received their associate missionary appointment to Okinawa. They were immediately made assistant pastors of the church. Sister Marsh has served as ladies' leader and children's prayer coordinator. Bro. Marsh has also ministered in the military prisons on Okinawa. When returning to the field they will be working to establish new Bible study/cell groups on all the military bases throughout both Japan and Korea, as well as training up more leaders and licensed ministers, within the military, so those leaders can also be used in the North American churches once their tour of duty is over.
