Biography

David and Ashley both attended Texas Bible College before going to the field. They went to Madagascar on AIM in the year 2017 for a one year term. While there they received appointment to associate missionary status. They then came home for a short deputation and returned to Madagascar for another year. While on the field they worked closely with the national youth department in many areas. They set up a campus ministry in the capital city and participated in several services and discussions focused on young people. They have just received dual appointments as intermediate missionaries to both Madagascar and the Democratic Republic of Congo.
