Biography

Paul and Stephanie Rivero were appointed missionaries to Costa Rica in 2007. When they arrived on location in 2009, they immediately began pastoring a church in Pavas, Costa Rica, near the capital city of San Jose. In 2010 they started a daughter work out of their church.

Brother Rivero teaches in the Bible school. Brother and Sister Rivero have served as the Sunday school coordinators in Costa Rica and have helped then missionary David Schwarz with the national leadership. They plan to move forward in discipleship, evangelism, and in training other ministers to help the work in Costa Rica reach new heights and have greater revival.
